Dear Parents, Caregivers, Staff and Students

This will be the final Newsletter for 2010. 2010 has again been a busy year for Marryatville High School with students across the year levels involving themselves in the many and varied aspects of school life – through sporting activities, the Cocurricula program, the Performing and Visual Arts programs, and opportunities to travel overseas. Indeed the 2010 Year Book is testimonial to all these opportunities. As I begin the preparatory work on our Annual Report, which will be published in March 2011, the challenge is to adequately record all the achievements and highlights. Our school community is indeed fortunate in having students, staff and families who can work together so effectively to ensure that each individual can pursue his or her own goals in a caring and safe environment.

Highlights featured in our Annual Report will include data showing outstanding student achievement, successful implementation of new SACE Stage 1 and preparation for SACE Stage 2 and the Research Project. We have continued to focus on Student Wellbeing through an evolving Student Life Program. Indeed Marryatville High School was recognised as one of only two schools in South Australia as a “Mind Matters” school. For this to happen the school had to meet a range of criteria that demonstrated a comprehensive whole school approach to mental health and wellbeing.

We continue to be a preferred school for International students and their parents. While numbers of International students have decreased in many schools, ours remain steady. Agents from a number of countries very regularly visit the school and we host numerous Principal delegations throughout the year.

The Student Representative Council completely changed the format of our annual Big Day In this year and it proved to be a success. Instead of music being the only focus, there were dance and film competitions. This meant that a greater number of students were actively engaged on the day.

The Strategic group has worked to collect data from parents, students and staff to form the basis of the Site Learning Plan – 2011 to 2013.

In March this year the Hon Mike Rann MP and the then Minister for Education, The Hon Jane Lomax-Smith MP visited Marryatville High School to announce the Expanding State Secondary Schools initiative. The staff worked extremely hard to develop an Education and Care Brief reflective of the needs of this school to cater for extra students. Currently the Asset Management Committee is working with the Department of Education & Children’s Services and J.P.E Design (Architects) considering options that will move the school forward with curriculum offerings and facilities that meet the needs of 21st Century Learners.

In August the Hon Jay Weatherill MP, Minister for Education and Early Childhood Development visited Marryatville High School. During his time here he met the School Captains and Senior students, spoke with the Principal and four members of the Governing Council and toured parts of the school.

It is with pleasure that we welcome back Mr Mark Leahy as Principal at Marryatville High School from the beginning of 2011. Mark brings to this position a clear understanding of the school, and ways to move forward into the 21st Century.

Our challenges for 2011 include continuing to use data to improve achievement and wellbeing, the Digital Education and improving facilities.

Marryatville High School is held in high esteem within the education community. This is due to the large number of individuals and groups who continue to work tirelessly to support the school.

- Governing Council, under the leadership of Mr Markus Trezise is committed to making Marryatville High School the best it can be. Thank you to both continuing committee members and those who are retiring this year.
- The Student Representative Council, with Brenna Mackay and Sam King as leaders, have ensured that student voice is represented in meetings and decisions affecting the school.
- The Parent and Friends Committee, the Eden Park Gardening Group, the Sports Council and the Friends of Music all contribute significantly to the ethos of this school.
- I would like to sincerely thank the teaching and support staff for their professionalism and their dedication to students through a wide range of ways, above and beyond their duties. This is truly one of the defining features of Marryatville High School.

Activities Week
This is an important part of our school program and the expectation is that students, unless they have arranged an exemption will be present.

Uniform Matters
Please note that the blue and white striped girls uniform is no longer part of the accepted uniform for girls.

AMEB Awards

Cong Nguyen and David Goodwin have been selected to perform at the AMEB’s (The Australian Music Examination Board) 2010 Showcase and Awards Ceremony. Their selection was made on the recommendation of the examiner of his 2010 examiners together with careful consideration of the Showcase Performance Director. Cong was selected for his outstanding performance in his Grade 7 guitar exam, while David was selected for his results in Grade 6 pianoforte exam. The Showcase will be held on Sunday 12th December at 2pm in Elder Hall. To have reached this standard is an outstanding achievement of which the Special Interest Music Centre and Marryatville High School are very proud.

More Guitar News

Both Cong Nguyen and the Marryatville Senior Guitar Ensemble were chosen to perform for 15 minutes each at the Adelaide International Guitar Festival’s Your 15 Minutes of Fame! on Saturday 27th November.

Guitar Concert

On Monday 22nd November, music tutor Oliver Fartach-Niarni and the Senior guitar ensemble staged a short but impressive concert. The concert began with solos from Cong Nguyen, Eugene Cullity, and Harry Covill. They were then joined by Sebastian Stead to perform as a quartet. The Concert included such composers as Villa-Lobos, Lauro, Cardada, Chadwick and Nelegatti.

Twilight Concert

The Twilight Concert was held on Friday November 19th on the school’s front oval. The usual venue, the amphitheatre, was unavailable because of its pending refurbishment. The front oval was set up with a stage area for the bands and orchestras and tents on the side were the location of the Friends of Music and Parents and Friends groups who supplied a bbq, refreshments, beverages and cakes and cheese.

The music staff and students set up the venue, including amplification equipment during the day, but many hands helped bump out and clean up the venue after sunset.

The concert began with the Junior Orchestra conducted by Ms Bowden and Ms Hordern. The items included the theme music to the Pirates of the Caribbean and Mussorgsky’s Gates of Kiev.

Next to perform were the Studio Strings directed by tutor Reg Chapman. This junior ensemble performed with flair and enthusiasm. Louis Cann even performed as Double Bass soloist accompanied by the others.

The Junior Band was conducted by IMS teacher Kerry Hewitt. They performed a number of impressive pieces, but ended the set with a rendition of “The Stripper”.

The School Orchestra under the direction of Aldis Sils performed the American in Paris Suite by Gershwin, An Overture of French Carols and finished with the Triumphal march from Verdi’s Opera Aida.

During the official opening of the Art Exhibition in the Forge, combos Jam Packed and Jazzit! entertained the audience with a number of jazz favourites.

Before the sun set, but with a cold wind gusting about, the Senior Band, conducted by tutor Reg Chapmann, performed a number of exciting works including one which featured the duelling xylophones of Andrew Chan and Amelia Jutilane-Maynard.

A special thanks to the Friends of Music and Parents and Friends groups who helped with the catering for the event, our groundsman Alby and Jacob who helped with setting up, tutor Adam Lutley for sound engineering and student Matthias Fresacher who was of great assistance throughout the day and evening.

National Trust at Government House

At the recent National Trust of South Australia’s huge annual event at Government House, three of our ensembles performed with great success.

They were the Big Band 2, the Year 9 Jazz Ensemble and the Flute Ensemble.

As a result of their participation, Sam Hordern has received three fantastic communications from firstly, the Governor of South Australia Rear Admiral Kevin Scarce, secondly the President of the National Trust Mr David Beaumont and thirdly from the organiser of the event Mrs Robyn Wight. All three letters were filled with admiration and gratitude for our ensembles. Mr Beaumont also included a beautiful book entitled “Challenging Times: national Trust of South Australia 50th Year History”

To quote Mr Beaumont in his letter - “the music you provided on the day was a critical component of providing the general public with a very enjoyable and memorable experience.” He also informed us that 3,900 people were in attendance on that Sunday.

ELANDRA STRING QUARTET 2010 CONCERT

Former students Alison Rayner and Lynette Rayner (violins) Leah Zweck (viola) and Zoe Wallace (cello) will be having a concert at the Bethlehem Lutheran Church, 170 Flinders Street on Sunday 12th December from 2.00pm. Tickets are available at the door $25.00/$15.00.

Parents & Friends

As the end of year is fast approaching, we would like to thank everyone who helped the P&F this year.

This year, we have been able to donate funds to various departments within the school and this was only possible because of the efforts of parents who have helped throughout the year. So a massive thank you to everyone who donated goods or gave up their precious time to make this year a success. We hope to see you all again next year!

If you are interested in joining the Parents & Friends committee in 2011 you can do so by either contacting Jane Kettle or sending an email to the address below.

Many thanks for your continued support.

English

English is a subject undertaken by all students in Years 8 – 11 who do not study the alternative subject of ESL.

At Years 9 and 10 there is an Extension English class in addition to general English classes, while at Stage 1 (Year 11) level students study a general English course in Semester 1 before choosing either a Pre Studies or Pre Communication course in Semester 2. An additional semester length Journalism course may also be chosen as a Stage 1 unit. At Marryatville High School, a high proportion of students elect to continue their study of English into Stage 2 (Year 12), choosing either the more literature based English Studies course or English Communications, a course allowing students a broader range of response types and areas of study. Both Stage 2 courses have provided our students with strong success in the past, and these courses have again proved to be popular subject choices with students this year. This year English teachers have worked together to implement the new courses of the New SACE in Year 11 and for next year with Year 12.

What do students do in English?

English is more than a study and appreciation of literature, although this is of course a very important element of our classes. Critical literacy, or understanding how texts are constructed and manipulated to meet audience and purpose forms a large part of our studies, as does students’ construction of a variety of their own texts. Our programmes include both shared and independent studies of a wide variety of classical and contemporary texts drawn from both Australia and overseas, as well as everyday texts such as web pages and feature articles. We study written, film and oral texts, and texts that are based in technology. All students in Years 10 and 11 study a Shakespearean play. Students also create a variety of their own texts such as critical essays, poetry, web - pages, oral presentations, prose pieces, and films. When preparing written responses we strongly encourage the use of the drafting process and careful attention to written accuracy. All Year 8 to 10 students complete common tasks each term. Some photos are included on these pages showing off some of the Book Boxes created by Year 8 students in response to an independently chosen text they had read. Students present their book boxes to their class through a speech outlining features of the text and the decisions they made in designing and creating their book boxes. Many parents and students from local primary schools saw many of these on display on our Open Day this year. A number of competition opportunities arise during the year and we encourage students to showcase their skills through participation in competitions such as Young Writers and Spring Poetry.

English and Technology

Technology is an important tool for both teachers and students of English. Research, developing examples of ICT texts, word processing assignments, using software for filmmaking, programmes such as Inspiration for ideas generation, and Powerpoint and Photostory for response presentations are ways we use ICT in the classroom. Some classes are learning to use Edmodo as a collaborative learning tool in their classrooms at present. While most students use technology responsibly, there have been occasions when plagiarism has been an issue. It is important that students develop an understanding of acceptable practices and can provide verification of the originality of their work. The best ways to do this are by ongoing discussion with their teachers during response preparation and by using the drafting process.

The ICT upgrading of our four dedicated English classroom with data projectors and document readers at the start of the year has benefited both teachers and students in technology access and curriculum delivery. We are working on developing our film making technology resources to enable more classes and students to develop skills in this area.

Some Highlights

Across the Creek Writers’ Festival

A highlight of the Years 8 and 9 programmes this year has again been our writers’ festival, Across the Creek, held jointly with Loreto College. This is a valuable opportunity for our Years 8 and 9 English students to experience in a workshop situation, the ideas and approaches of practising published South Australian writers. Our students then put their newly honed skills into practise, developing their own creative responses, the best of which we are currently working towards publishing in a booklet. This year students participated in workshops led by South Australian writers Peter McFarlane, Janeen Brian, Sally Heinrich and writer illustrator Dave de Vries. A number of students also elected to attend Special Interest writers’ workshops led by Dave de Vries, Peter McFarlane and Sally Heinrich, who complimented all groups on their interest and creativity. This year, for the first time, we ran a joint writing competition with Loreto. Some winning entries will be published in our Yearbook and these students will be awarded Borders book vouchers at our final assembly. We have some fabulous writers amongst our students.

Spring Poetry Competition

We have many very talented and creative writers. Each year we strongly encourage students to submit original poems to the annual Spring Poetry Festival, a state wide poetry competition run by SAETA (South Australian English Teachers Association) competition. Marryatville High School English students were again successful this year. Particular congratulations go to Sarah Van der Hoogen (Year 12) whose work was published in the 2010 anthology.
For the first time we ran a writing competition following on from our Across the Creek Writers Festival held early Term 4 with our Year 8 and 9 classes. Loreto did the same. Marryatville students emailed their entries and a panel of 8 student judges from across both schools reached consensus on the top four winning entries, assisted by Ms Louisa Mulligan from Loreto, and Ms Dawn Hyatt from MHS, both currently the English Coordinators/organisers of the festival and the competition. Our judges were from Mr Weiland’s Year 10 Extension English class. Thank you to Callum Warrender, Joanne Easson, Stephanie Howard and Caitlin O’Connell. The Writers Festival inspired students and teachers to write some fantastic poems and prose pieces. Well done to all who took the opportunity to enter and also to their teachers who encouraged them. Marryatville took out 1st and 4th place, and the following two poems are the winning entries. Book vouchers will be presented to these two students at our next assembly.

The winning entry across both schools!

Summer Mistake
By Gemma Itropico  Year 9

The sun shines brightly and the birds fly high,
The children are laughing and I wonder why.
It’s time for school tomorrow, yet summer is still here…
And everyone’s relaxing even though homework is near.
I am different though, because winter is my thing,
I’d rather be inside today, than sitting on a swing.
Beaches are way too crowded, and I don’t have any friends,
Plus I don’t like going shopping, or following any trends.
Now I’m different to all the others, like the girls in my year,
I like being individual…but it makes mum shed a tear.
I used to be so popular, and everyone knew my name,
But now no one seems to notice me, nothing is the same.
Why did everything have to change, it was fine the way it was,
I always sit and wonder, if there really is a because.
Mum pretends to worry about me but she doesn’t really care,
It’s like my words make no sense to her, they’re just floating in the air.
I think she’s ashamed of me now, cause I can’t do anything right,
Whenever we have a conversation it just ends up in a fight.
She doesn’t usually find me if I stay out in the rain,
I wish I could just never come back and catch the nearest train.
Winter makes me happy, but I actually don’t know why,
Maybe its cause the raindrops are like tears, on a winter’s day,
I wonder if anyone realises, that mine just drip away.
It may sound pretty stupid, or even pretty sad,
But last summer was the worst time of my life, and now everything is bad.
What can I do now, so things will turn out right?
I really need some answers, so I can get some sleep at night.
My brother’s the only one who doesn’t care about what I did,
He always says ‘No one’s perfect, and you’re really just a kid’.
He is the only person I know who really makes me smile,
It seems as though I’m not alone and someone understands me for a while.
I’m not asking for forgiveness, I don’t even forgive myself yet,
I just want someone to notice me, why am I so easy to forget?

No Longer Her
By Lucinda Hayman  Year 9

Sorry, I didn’t mean to stare
But do I know you by any chance?
Was that a look of recognition,
Followed by a suspicious glance?
No, you’re right, you’re not that girl,
For she was bright and full of fun
You’re lonely and getting older,
Your life is a race that has been run.
She was young like a fresh, spring flower
To you the world is a confusing blur
She was a girl with joy and hope
Yes, you’re right, you’re not her.
But would you please promise me this?
If you see her will you tell her I care
And I miss her looking back at me
From that mirror over there.
Journalism student gets an opportunity to follow his sports reporting dream

After the publishing of my story on Channel 7 TV Producer Graham Archer in the School Newsletter I was given the chance by media identity Chris Dittmar to work with him reporting on local school sports for his website whowon.net.au. This occurred with assistance from my home group teacher Sue Dansie after she helped Chris with a story on Marryatville Tennis and after she happened to mention my involvement in journalism. Whowon is a website that provides school sport results, video footage of some of the games and supporting stories.

Chris has given me the opportunity to do some interviewing and reporting to camera. I met Chris on the 18th of November and we talked about how to present in a confident manner and also did some filming. Over future weekends I will be attending various sporting events and interviewing the captains of sporting teams. On Friday the 19th of November I will be reporting from St Peters College on the Twenty20 grand final game between St Peters and St Michael's Colleges. I will be interviewing the captains of each team. I am excited by this opportunity to further develop my confidence and skills in news reporting.

Student Report on Across the Creek Writers Festival

As a part of English, the year 8/9 students had the opportunity to participate in the ‘Writers Festival’. In these workshops, each class was able to partake in interactive discussions with an author. Together we learnt about the different and effective ways of writing when creating stories or poems. We focused on points like description, perspective (3rd person etc), how and where to start when writing, and many more. By listening to some of the authors own work, it got us thinking; helping us to come up with new ideas for our own writing. We looked at a reader’s point of view, which helped when having to be the writer. Some groups even got to make a start at creating their own stories and poems. This was helpful for many, as the students who chose to share their work received constructive feedback and responses from the professional author and their peers. The session was also interesting asking our author questions allowing us to find things about their career journey, what inspired them, their favorite books, and the list goes on. All up it was a great experience, and it helped all of us to learn a little more about writing.

Cameron Dienelt, Lachie Pridham, Peter Cowen, Adrian Forte and Imre Dawe recently returned from the Northern Flinders Ranges after completing exercise 5a of this year’s operation Flinders Program. The boys spent eight days and walking through rough country, cooking their own meals and completing survival exercises designed to improve their resilience and personal strengths.

All of the boys completed the program and were successfully given their Operation Flinders “dog tags”. Peter Cowen was awarded a boomerang carved by the local Adnyamathanha people for the excellence of his efforts.

This year, Vitarium (a gluten-free products brand) initiated what hopes to be an annual Bake-off, where people from all over Australia and of all ages sent in original recipes using a Vitarium product as its core. This year I entered a recipe which I had created in a school Nutrition class, my Superfood Brownies. What makes them special from normal brownies is the use of 12 Superfood ingredients including dark chocolate, Chia seeds, LSA mix, honey, yoghurt and beetroot!

From over a hundred entries, mine was chosen as the winner! The prize included $10,000 worth of LG kitchen appliances and the opportunity to appear onstage preparing my recipe at the Irresistible Gluten Free Show held in Sydney. Performing live at the show was an amazing experience and I was able to meet many creative people like Jo Richardson and Dr. Sue Shepherd, both who are gluten-free ambassadors and also helped in the judging of the Bake-off.

In 2010 the Learning Assistance Program had the generous support of 13 adult volunteers from the school community. Three old scholars, who squeezed in time to support us amid university studies and work commitments, were among the group.

Each week these amazing people gave a double lesson to the program and assisted students in many different ways. They shared their knowledge about math, provided strategies for essay writing, assisted with research and investigations and gave instruction in self defense. All showed a personal and caring interest in their students and helped promote confidence and self esteem.

I would like to thank Glenys Burnside who has been on the LAP journey for 5 years. Endless patience and a keen sense of humour has endeared her to all her students, past and present. Although Glenys’ son leaves Marryatville at the end of the year, an invitation to “come back next year” has been offered!

On December 3rd we will celebrate the end of a successful year with a Xmas luncheon at GGs café.

Co-Curricular Results

Orienteering

MEL FULLER 9.4

During the last school holidays Mel took part in the Australian Schools Orienteering championships. These were held at Williamstown and Mt. Crawford Forest. This was the second that Mel has competed. This year Mel was placed third in Australia in the under 16 age group. She was paired with another student from Concordia College in a paired timed event. The event included international competitors from New Zealand.

Mel camped on the Williamstown Oval for 10 days and found her experience both an interesting sporting event that also included the opportunity to make new friends from around Australia and New Zealand. James Fuller and Luke Hazel from Marryatville High School also competed.
